Cornforth History has an extensive database with over 700 men of those who Survived and Died during World War 1 from West Cornforth and surrounding villages of Metal Bridge, East Howle. and Tursdale

Our database includes service papers, census records, giving details of where your ancestor lived and worked and in many cases we have press cuttings giving further information on the life of your soldier, sometimes with photographs.

Display in the Library From Thursday 30th October until further notice.
