Session 7

What is normal anyway?

Welcome to Session 7. You know by now that Matt and Gemma are helping us through these sessions.

In Session 6, we learned about the power of bouncing back and that it is sometimes hard but a very necessary thing to be able to do.

We looked at how we handle ourselves when things go wrong and how we can overcome challenges.

Today we are looking at ‘what is normal anyway?’ Here is Matthew to explain some more...

Gemma will be back at the end of the session as usual!

Read from page 63 to page 83, if you have a copy of ‘Go Big’.

Do you ever wonder what normal is?

- Is it the way someone acts?
- The way someone dresses?
- What people say?
- How smart they seem?
- Who they hang around with?
- What they want to become?

It can be easy to wish you were more ‘normal’ – whatever that means!

‘If you were more like everyone else, you might think you would fit in better. You might also think that ‘normal’ people dress a certain way and appear to do what they should, when they should, acting in a way that society has decided people at this age, from this country, do. But never forget that everyone has those bits of themselves that they don’t like; even the most apparently ‘normal’ person with the apparently ‘perfect life’ in your year will, I guarantee you, have times when they wish they were more like someone else.’

Matthew Burton, ‘Go Big’ page 69

Just be you and be happy you are.

Every single one of you
is a brilliantly unique person – embrace that!

If you were more like everyone else,
you might think you would fit in better.

BUT there is no real normal, and everyone wishes they were more like someone else sometimes.

‘You are beautiful.
It’s okay to be quirky,
it’s fine to be shy.
You don’t have to go with the crowd.’

Find out who you are and do it deliberately

Activity:

- Write down all of the ways you are different and unique.
- How may these help you in your new school or in life?

You belong to a community

You can all have different personalities and have different opinions without wearing different clothes.

In uniform, we are:

- Ready for work
- Looking professional
- Equal
- Part of a community
- Proud to be here
- Important to our school
- Not having to agonise over fashion statements!

We all look the same but express ourselves differently.

As far as uniform is concerned...

whatever the rule is: FOLLOW IT.

Live your life and don't try to be someone else.

Here is Gemma, back again to end Session 7.
